FOREWORD

The U.S. Army War College (USAWC) develops strategic leaders and ideas invaluable to the U.S. Army, Joint Force, and the Nation. Through scholarship, dedicated USAWC faculty and student researchers generate and develop new ideas as they work to solve some of our nation's toughest national security problems.

Research topics described in the USAWC Research Plan constitute one part of the U.S. Army War College Research Program that incorporates three interrelated documents: the Key Strategic Issues List (KSIL), the USAWC Annual Research Plan, and the USAWC Annual Research Report. While the KSIL drives USAWC research, the Research Plan is the mechanism for how resources are directed to answer questions posed in the KSIL. The Research Report serves as a compendium of research conducted during the most recent academic year and a means to identify unanswered questions that may feed into the next KSIL development cycle.

Today's global security environment remains volatile, uncertain, and complex. Near-term readiness remains the Army's priority. Nonetheless, the United States and the world face a number of disintegrative forces that pose real strategic challenges. There is adversarial competition and outright conflict in many places, and we face an imperfect strategic horizon. We still have to anticipate the broad nature of future challenges, potential threats and opportunities, and the best military options the Army and Joint Force can present to America's political leaders. The research envisioned in this year's Research Plan will shed light on known challenges not yet overcome, as well as on presently unknown challenges, and propose ways to address them. Our research is influential and unique. Collectively, we combine many of the Nations' best national security researchers and practitioners to create new strategic thought for the Army, Joint Force, and Nation. I applaud all who contribute to this Research Plan and solicit your assistance in protecting and promoting U.S. interests.

John S. Kem
Major General, U.S. Army
Commandant
1. Introduction: For over a decade, the USAWC has published the annual Key Strategic Issues List (KSIL) to inform students, faculty, and external research associates of strategic topics requiring research and analysis. Part I of the Academic Year (AY) 2018 KSIL, the Chief of Staff of the Army Special Interest Topics, sets forth critical topics demanding special attention. A subset of these topics will be addressed as Integrated Research Projects. Part II: Army Priorities for Strategic Analysis, was developed in coordination with Headquarters Department of the Army (HQDA) and major commands throughout the Army. The KSIL helps prioritize strategic research and analysis conducted by USAWC students and faculty, USAWC Fellows, and external researchers, to orient their research efforts and results more effectively on the Army’s most pressing and important topics. As the USAWC’s Strategic Studies Institute (SSI) prepares the KSIL to help the research community focus its efforts on topics relevant to the U.S. Army, Joint Force and the Nation, it pursues three criteria:

   a. Relevance. Issues must have direct Army or Joint Force relevance. This means that the research has the potential to shape Army policies, strategy, or actions, rather than being background information or "for situational awareness".

   b. Priority. Selection of KSIL topics is informed by Department of Defense, Joint, and Army senior leader discussions and strategic guidance, as well as through collaboration with defense scholars and other military experts.

   c. Suitability. The USAWC is not able to research every issue of strategic issue important to the Army. Highly technical issues requiring highly specialized expertise are better handled by other research and analysis organizations. The KSIL focuses on those topics for which the USAWC is organized and positioned to make significant contributions.

2. Purpose: The USAWC Research Plan is one part of a research program cycle that incorporates three interrelated documents: the KSIL, the USAWC Annual Research Plan and the USAWC Annual Research Report. While the KSIL drives USAWC research, the Research Plan describes how directed resources will answer many of the questions posed in the KSIL. The Research Report serves as a compendium of research completed and a means to identify unanswered questions from the current KSIL, to assist in the next cycle’s KSIL formulation.

3. Organization:

   a. SSI, with guidance from the Commandant and the Chief of Staff Army (CSA), organizes the KSIL into overarching and enduring strategic themes and issues. Each theme encompasses "KSIL issues" which provide the basis for research efforts.
b. KSIL Themes: This year’s KSIL themes are listed below. (The complete listing of (AY) 2018 KSIL themes and associated KSIL issues are found at http://ssi.armywarcollege.edu/pubs/display.cfm?pubID=1363.)

- Theme 1: How can the U.S. Army be more effective in complex operational environments?
- Theme 2: At the individual, organizational, or societal level of the human dimension, how does the Army optimize its effectiveness?
- Theme 3: What is the best use of the Army to promote U.S. interests:
  - Theme 3.a: in the Asia Pacific region?
  - Theme 3.b: in the Middle East?
  - Theme 3.c: in South and Central Asia?
  - Theme 3.d: in Latin America and the Caribbean?
  - Theme 3.e: in Eurasia?
  - Theme 3.f: in Africa?
- Theme 4: What is the best use of the Army to help defend the U.S. homeland and North America?
- Theme 5: How will major trends in the strategic environment, defense strategy, national priorities, society, political authority, demographics, and technology affect the employment of Army forces?
- Theme 6: How will social, cultural, political, demographic, and economic changes affect the U.S. Army?
- Theme 7: How can defense management facilitate Army institutional resource prioritization, decision making, and adaptation?
- Theme 8: How can the U.S. Army better integrate into the Joint Force to prepare for and conduct Multi-Domain Battle (MDB)?

4. CSA Research Priorities. The CSA identified certain KSIL issues as priority research efforts. These issues receive command attention and are resourced accordingly. The CSA’s priority research issues are described in Part I of Research Plan.
5. USAWC Research Pathways: The USAWC research pathways are the means for conducting research in pursuit of KSIL topics. They include:

   a. Integrated Research Projects (IRPs): IRPs are comprehensive research efforts involving USAWC faculty and students, or faculty only, that lead to scholarship of value to the Army, Joint Force, and Department of Defense. (Click here for more information.)

   b. Faculty Research Projects (FRPs): FRPs by USAWC scholars answer topics of strategic importance or of significant national security relevance. They are produced through various means: full-time professors; adjunct faculty; Intergovernmental Personnel Act employees (IPAs); and others.

   c. External Research Associates Program (ERAPs): ERAP projects fulfill the same goal as FRPs; however they are conducted by contracted researchers. This occurs when the USAWC does not have appropriate in-house expertise or cannot match existing resources to current demands. (Click here for more information.)

   d. Directed Wargames (DW): The USAWC Department of Strategic Wargaming (DSW) employs wargames, exercises, and simulations to assist in the development of strategic leaders and advisors, foster strategic innovation, improve strategic planning, and advance understanding of strategic issues for the Army, the Joint Force, and the Nation. (Click here for more information.)

   e. Strategy Research Projects (SRPs): SRPs are KSIL-based individual student research projects. (Click here for more information.)

   f. Fellows Strategy Research Projects (FSRPs): FSRPs are KSIL-based individual research projects conducted by USAWC Fellows.

   g. Academic Conferences (AC): AC provide scholars venues for exchanging ideas, creating new knowledge, and exposing audiences to new scholarship. Carefully planned and executed conferences enables the USAWC to remain a good steward of taxpayer dollars by keeping costs and attendance levels to the minimum necessary to accomplish the mission, while realizing the benefits of hosting or attending a conference. The participation of every conference attendee, including support staff, must be appropriately related to official duties and demonstrably benefit the Army. Appropriately organized and conducted conferences are very cost-effective means for acquiring leading-edge research and analysis. (Click here for more information.)

6. Research Products:

   a. The monograph is the staple of the USAWC research and publication product line. All research identified in the USAWC Research Plan will result in one or more of the following products: monographs; directed analysis/special reports (CSA, Joint Staff);
Carlisle Papers; conference reports and other papers; op-eds; books; or online journal articles.

b. These products will inform Army leadership and other national security professionals through strategic communication media such as news outlets (articles, radio, podcasts); congressional testimony; colloquia; external academic and policy publications, conferences, and social media.

7. Research Report: AY 2018 research results will be presented in the USAWC AY 2018 Research Report (Summer 2018). This document will include a brief summary of each project, project recommendations, and a URL for the final research product.

8. The editors for this Research Plan are COL Todd E. Key, Chairman, Strategic Research and Analysis Department, Strategic Studies Institute, at (717) 245-4125, todd.e.key.mil@mail.mil, and LTC Charles A. Carlton, at (717) 961-2022, charles.a.carlton2.mil@mail.mil.
PART I
Chief of Staff Research Priorities

The five CSA-selected priority topics for AY 2017 – 2018 are listed in detail below.

CSA #1: Expeditionary Wartime Sustainment. This priority topic is directly tied to KSIL Theme #1: “How can the U.S. Army be more effective in complex operational environments?” It is specifically addressed in KSIL Issue 1.1: “Are the Army’s current deployment and distribution processes and systems adequate to support an expeditionary force in future operating environments? What lessons have previous studies revealed that should inform future deployment and distribution capability choices for the Army?”

Pathways:

- IRP: Expeditionary Wartime Sustainment

  - Research Question and Scope: What is needed to sustain an expeditionary Army? Over the past fifteen years, the Army has become well practiced at mobilizing and deploying the reserve components—both the Army National Guard and the Army Reserve—for limited contingency operations. Despite this experience, many mobilization experts assert the current processes may prove insufficient to mobilize the total Army force rapidly for large, sustained contingency operations. A large-scale mobilization will impact the entire Joint Force due to the anticipated competition for resources including personnel, training areas, equipment, transportation, and supporting organizations.

  - Product: Monograph

  - Timeline: Sep 17- Jun 18

  - POC: COL Matthew P. Shatzkin, Center for Strategic Leadership; matthew.p.shatzkin.mil@mail.mil.
CSA #2: Korea – Stabilization after War. This priority topic is tied to KSIL Theme #3a: “What is the best use of the Army to promote U.S. interests in the Asia Pacific region?” It is specifically tied to KSIL Issue 3.a.1: “Does the U.S. possess the capabilities and capacity to ensure long-term stability on the Korean Peninsula after combat operations? If not, what functions must the U.S. Army be prepared to perform to ensure success during post-conflict operations?”

Pathways:

- IRP: Getting it Right: U.S. Army Support to the Stabilization and Reconstruction of Korea

  - Research Question and Scope: North Korea poses major threats to peace and stability in Northeast Asia either by a war with the United States and its allies or internal implosion. In any post-conflict scenario the United States is likely to participate in the stabilization of North Korea. This could involve humanitarian relief, counterinsurgency, operations in contaminated environments, and support to civil authorities. The burdens would fall heavily on the Army. This IRP will develop an array of post-conflict scenarios and identify the tasks that the Army may be required to perform in each of them. It will distinguish tasks common to all scenarios from scenario-specific ones. The project will not predict scenarios or offer policy recommendations.

    - Dr. Conrad C. Crane, Chief of Historical Services, U.S. Army Heritage and Education Center; conrad.c.crane.civ@mail.mil.

    - CAPT Wade D. Turvold, U.S. Navy Senior Service Representative, School of Strategic Landpower, Department of National Security and Strategy; wade.d.turvold.mil@mail.mil.
CSA #3: Friendly Force Dilemmas in Europe. This priority topic is tied to KSIL Theme #3e: “What is the best use of the Army to promote U.S. interests in Eurasia?” It is specifically tied to KSIL Issue 3.e.1: “How do decisions and actions of intergovernmental organizations, such as NATO and the EU, impact U.S. land force missions and associated organizations, functions, capabilities, and capacity? How can the Army ensure adequate regional access and capabilities are available when required in Europe?”

Pathways:

- IRP: Friendly Force Dilemmas in Europe: Challenges within and among Intergovernmental Organizations and the Implications for the U.S. Army

  - Research Question and Scope: The principal intergovernmental organizations (IGOs) in Europe – NATO and the EU – have struggled to assure member states, muster sufficient resources, and ameliorate security challenges. What are the most important and most relevant shortcomings of security-related intergovernmental organizations in Europe? What are the critical implications for the U.S. Army? How can the U.S. Army and DoD support and assist those IGOs, its allies, and its partners in overcoming the institutional shortcomings, so as to strengthen collective defense?

CSA #4: Total Mobilization. This priority topic is directly tied to KSIL Theme #4: “What is the best use of the Army to help defend the U.S. homeland and North America?” It is specifically tied to KSIL Issue 4.1: “How prepared is the Army to make ready, deploy, employ, and sustain a totally mobilized Army? What actions can the Army take to prepare the mobilization enterprise, the national industrial base, and strategic transportation to support a Full Mobilization?”

Pathways:

- IRP: Total Mobilization

  - Research Question and Scope: How prepared is the Army to make ready, deploy, employ, and sustain a Total Army Mobilization? What actions can the Army take to prepare the mobilization enterprise, the national industrial base, and strategic transportation to support a Full Mobilization? Multi-year Project: Full Mobilization (Year One 1); Total Mobilization (Years Two - Three).

- SRP: Contested Mobilization; COL Michael J. Bracewell; michael.j.bracewell.mil@mail.mil.
Pathways:

- IRP: What will be Climate's Impact on Warfighting

  • Research Question and Scope: What are the implications for global risk/threat analysis and assessment for the Joint Force? How should warming be incorporated into risk/threat frameworks? Given these threat/risk implications, how should the Joint Force (focusing on the Army) modify current force structure and force development constructs?

  • Product: Monograph

  • Timeline: Sep 17- Jun 18

  • Sponsor: None (internally funded)

  • Stakeholder: Office of the Army Chief of Staff

  • POCs: Dr. Andrew A. Hill, Associate Professor, Chair of Strategic Leadership; andrew.a.hill13.civ@mail.mil.

    - Mr. Ryan McCannell, USAID Senior Representative, Peacekeeping and Stability Operations Institute, USAWC; ryan.s.mccannell.civ@mail.mil.

CSA #8: Multi-Domain Battle: Winning in the Pacific. This priority topic is tied to KSIL Theme #8: “How can the U.S. Army better integrate into the Joint Force to prepare for and conduct Multi-Domain Battle (MDB)?” It is specifically addressed in KSIL Issue 8.1: “What strategic components are essential for durable U.S. military advantage across and within the land, air, sea, space, cyber, information, and electromagnetic spectrum (EMS) domains in the Indo-Asia-Pacific region by 2028? Considering the multi-domain threats the U.S. will face in the next decade, what strategy and policy initiatives are critical to ensure the Joint Force can continue to meet enduring defense objectives against all IAP threats?”

Pathways:

- IRP: Mastering Hyper-competition: Multi-Domain Battle and Military Advantage in the PACOM AOR

  - Research Question and Scope: What strategic components are essential for durable U.S. military advantage across and within the land, air, sea, space, cyber, information, and EMS domains in the Indo-Asia-Pacific region by 2028? Considering the multi-domain threats the U.S. will face in the next decade, what strategy and policy initiatives are critical to ensure the Joint Force can continue to meet enduring defense objectives against all IAP threats? Multi-year Project: Year One: North Korea; Year Two: Russia, China and the Region.

PART II
USAWC Commandant’s Research Priorities

The Commandant, USAWC, via the Provost, directs the application of resources in order to answer the questions posed in the KSIL. Part II utilizes KSIL Themes as the basic structure for categorizing USAWC research in pursuit of that objective. (Note: because not all KSIL Issues have dedicated research efforts, only those which do are addressed below.)

1. KSIL Theme #1: How can the U.S. Army be more effective in complex operational environments?

KSIL Issue 1.1: Are the Army’s current deployment and distribution processes and systems adequate to support an expeditionary force in future operating environments? What lessons have previous studies revealed that should inform future deployment and distribution capability choices for the Army?

Pathways:

- SRP: The Army Preposition Stocks (APS) Program Supporting Expeditionary Maneuver; COL Bobby W. Bryant, USAWC Student; bobby.w.bryant.mil@mail.mil.

- SRP: Readiness Risk: Deficiencies Providing a Ready Army Early Response Force; LTC Arvid Hill.

- SRP: Overcoming Multi-Domain Battle Sustainment Challenges through Demand Reduction Initiatives; LTC Landis C. Maddox.

KSIL Issue 1.2: Evaluate whether the changing strategic environment and character of war require a corresponding change in the way Army leaders think about war.

Pathways:

- SRP: Where Do I Belong? Understanding Identity in Youth Radicalization; LTC Casey J. Miner; casey.j.miner.mil@mail.mil.

- SRP: Required Adaptation in an Increasingly Complex Operational Environment; LTC Eric D. Beaty; eric.d.beaty.mil@mail.mil.

- SRP: Operations in a Subterranean Environment; Mr. James P. Beckman; james.p.beckman.civ@mail.mil.
KSIL Issue 1.3: Assess the Army's readiness and force structure to respond to a humanitarian/disaster relief and stabilization operation, resulting from the use of a weapon of mass destruction (e.g., highly contagious biological weapon or dirty bomb). Assess the effectiveness of U.S. Army relationships with partners to confront regional hegemons and secure vital U.S. interests.

Pathways:

- SRP: Assessing the Army’s Ability to Provide DSCA; LTC Chad Goyette.
KSIL Issue 1.4: Assess the Army’s ability to conduct joint operations in contested cyber and space environments.

- SRP: Cyberspace Defense of Critical Infrastructure - Legal and Policy Limitations; LtCol Jonathan M. Boling; jonathan.m.boling.mil@mail.mil.

- SRP: Army Joint Force Cyber Operations in an Anti-Access/Area Denial Environment; LTC James L. Eipper; james.l.eipper.mil@mail.mil.

- SRP: A Separate Cyber Service in DOD?; LTC Dexter C. Nunnally; dexter.c.nunnally.mil@mail.mil.

KSIL Issue 1.5: Assess the Army’s readiness to conduct joint operations in a megacity.

Pathways:

- SRP: Evaluate the Efficacy of U.S. Army Operations in a Population-dense Urban Environment/Megacity; LTC Martin C. Jung; Martin.C.Jung@usace.army.mil.

- SRP: Mission Command and Urban Operations; LTC Mark W. Susnis; mark.w.susnis.mil@mail.mil.

KSIL Issue 1.6: Analyze how U.S. land forces can reverse or counter Russia’s anti-access and area-denial (A2AD) capabilities in northeastern Europe.

- ERAP: Russia’s Anti-Access and Area Denial Capabilities: Real and Imagined Challenges; Mr. Keir Giles and Mr. Mathieu Boulegue.

- SRP: Landpower as a Deterrent in the Russian Western Military District; COL James C. Laslie; james.c.laslie3.mil@mail.mil.

KSIL Issue 1.8: Evaluate the Army’s requirement to be expeditionary considering the changing security environment.

- ERAP: U.S. Army’s Evolving Roles Involving Nuclear Weapons; Mr. Jeffrey L. Caton.

- SRP: Global Army Air and Missile Defense Forces Deployments are Unsustainable; LTC Matthew W. Dalton; matthew.w.dalton3.mil@mail.mil.
- SRP: Responding to Early Offensive Communications Requirements in the 21st Century; LTC Matthew J. Foulk; matthew.j.foulk.mil@mail.mil.

- SRP: 6th Generation Warfare - Advise, Assist, and Accompaniment; COL Joseph O'Callaghan.

- SRP: The Role of the Security Force Assistance Brigade; LTC Andrew F. Pekala; andrew.f.pekala.mil@mail.mil.

KSIL Issue 1.9: Evaluate the operational advantages and disadvantages of sharing sensitive technology with our most capable, and most likely future coalition partners.

- SRP: The U.S. Will Lose a Multi-Domain War without Collaboration; LTC Andre L. Burks; andre.l.burks2.mil@mail.mil.

- SRP: Defining and Assessing the Army's Campaign Qualities; LTC Glenn A. Henke.

KSIL Issue 1.10: Assess the Army's ability to execute mission command and control on a multi-domain battlefield that includes: friendly and adversary unmanned systems, semi-autonomous (human in the loop) robotic systems, and autonomous (no human in the loop) robotic systems.

Pathways:

- SRP: Citizen Soldier, Sensor Swarm; LTC Geoffrey Jeram.

- SRP: Systems of Systems-Enhanced Small Units Command and Control; LtCol Bradley Phillips.

KSIL Issue 1.11: Evaluate the efficacy of the U.S. Army in conducting local governance in the wake of combat or humanitarian operations.

Pathways:

- SRP: Building Military Capacity for Post Conflict and Failed State Stabilization; LTC Brian Henderson.

- SRP: An Examination of Alternative Phase IV and V Options; COL Leon E. Hooten; leon.e.hooten.mil@mail.mil.

- SRP: Windows of Opportunity: Emergence in the Aftermath of Conflict; LTC Leo J. Wyszynski; leo.j.wyszynski.mil@mail.mil.
KSIL Issue 1.16: Assess the degree to which hybrid warfare and constant competition in the information domain to achieve political objectives short of war have changed the Joint Phasing Construct; how should an expeditionary Army adapt?

Pathways:

- SRP: The Information Environment and Impacts to the SESU; LTC John Perrine.

KSIL Issue 1.18: Evaluate the extent of U.S. interoperability with NATO partners and the value of increased interoperability to counter Anti-Access/Area Denial (A2AD) in Europe.

Pathways:

- SRP: Capability-based Planning: The Way for The Czech Land Forces Development; COL Zdenek Mikula; zdenek.mikula.fm@mail.mil.
2. KSIL Theme #2: At the individual, organizational, or societal level of the human dimension, how does the Army optimize its effectiveness?

KSIL Issue 2.1: Analyze the Army’s effectiveness in identifying the traits, training, education, and experience necessary for leaders of military organizations to be effective in the future environment.

Pathways:

- Conference: Annual Army Strategy Conference

  - Product: Conference Report

  - Timeline: Apr – Jul 18

  - POC: Dr. Steven K. Metz; Director of Research, Strategic Studies Institute; steven.k.metz.civ@mail.mil.

- SRP: Attributes Governors should seek in Army National Guard Adjutants General; LTC Douglas Clay.

- SRP: USAR Talent Management: Building a Bench for General Officer; LTC Richard Corner.

- SRP: Army’s Challenge in Building Effective Teams in the 21st Century; Mr. Michael Haney.

- SRP: Preserving and Enhancing U.S. Army Logistics Expertise; LTC Martin J. Hendrix.

- SRP: Talent Management: How Does it Apply to Non-Commissioned Officers; LTC Scott Holland.

- SRP: United States Army Chaplain Talent Management Model; CH (COL) Rajmund Kopec; rajmund.kopec.mil@mail.mil.

- SRP: Strategic Leader Development: Career Evolution to meet Future Demands; COL Kip A. Korth; kip.a.korth.mil@mail.mil.

- SRP: The Incorporation of Experiential Education into Senior Service Colleges; Cdr Christopher Nigon.
KSIL Issue 2.2: What internal and external factors affect cognition and decision-making in senior leaders across a broad spectrum of decision categories, within operational and strategic contexts, and in what manner do they do so?

Pathways:

- SRP: Educating Future Generations of the Officer Corps; LTC Ryan P. O'Connor; ryan.p.oconnor.mil@mail.mil.

- SRP: How to Build A Better JAG: Judge Advocate Talent Management; LTC Tracianna L. Winston; tracianna.l.winston.mil@mail.mil.

KSIL Issue 2.3: Analyze how the Army can achieve consistent officer quality without detrimentally affecting diversity.

Pathways:

- SRP: Leaders Using Results of Safety Investigation for Cultural Change; COL Mark K. McPherson.

- SRP: Senior Leader Resilience: Who is Taking Care of the Leaders?; LTC Joel D. Newsom.

- SRP: Strategic Advising During Domestic Crisis; LTG Russel Honore During Katrina; COL Mark L. Tromblee; mark.l.tromblee.mil@mail.mil.

KSIL Issue 2.4: Evaluate if the Army is developing and assessing leaders correctly.

Pathways:

- SRP: The Army's Diversity Strategy: What Should Be Included?; LTC Lee C. Matthews; lee.c.matthews.mil@mail.mil.

- SRP: Achieving Consistent Officer Quality in the U.S. Army; COL Marcus A. Motley; marcus.a.motley.mil@mail.mil.

- SRP: Identifying and Addressing Toxic Marine Corps Strategic Leadership; LtCol Garrett Benson.

- SRP: Enhancing the Civilian Defense Senior Leader Development Program; Mr. Mark R. Crockett.
- SRP: Ethics Training: Do We Have it Right?; LTC Jason Davis.

- SRP: Talent Management in the Army Reserve: Are We There Yet?; LTC Rachel E. Humphrey; rachel.e.humphrey.mil@mail.mil.

- SRP: Is the Army Preparing Women to Be Senior Strategic Leaders?; LTC Yolanda Maddox.

- SRP: Promoting Success: Optimizing Human Capital for the Future Environment; LTC Brian R. Rauen; brian.r.rauen.mil@mail.mil.

- SRP: How to build a quality Civilian Workforce; Mr Gregg C. VanOrden; gregg.c.vanorden.civ@mail.mil.

- SRP: USAF Officer Management vs Development—Words Matter; LtCol Michael O. Walters.

---

KSIL Issue 2.5: Evaluate whether the Army is retaining and promoting the right people.

Pathways:

- SRP: Using Adaptive Leadership and Communication to Retain Cyber Professionals; LTC Diane M. Armbruster; diane.m.armbruster.mil@mail.mil.

- SRP: Talent Management (Human Dimension) Army Enlisted Force Recruitment Strategies; COL Gregory N. Ash.

- SRP: Army Personnel Management - from Recruiting Soldiers to Managing Talent; COL Steven Hanson.

- SRP: Talent Management-Challenges Selecting the Best Army Leaders; COL Ernest J. Irvin.

- SRP: Talent Management: Recruiting and Retaining the Military Millennial; LtCol Bernadette Maldonado; bernadette.maldonado.mil@mail.mil.

- SRP: Army is Purging Quality Officers; COL Christopher Ostby.

- SRP: Improving Officer Retention: Time to Acknowledge Professional Working Spouses; LTC Andrew Short.

- SRP: Maintaining the Talent; COL Christopher J. Ward.
KSIL Issue 2.8: Evaluate whether the Army now has the culture of trust essential to behavior as a profession, vice a government bureaucracy, and how well the Army is inculcating its own professional ethic into individuals, unit climates, and institutional culture; recommend adaptations as needed.

Pathways:

- SRP: What Congress Can Learn from Army's Sexual Harassment Reckoning; LTC Anne Brophy.

- SRP: Mission Command and Leadership Evaluating the Army's Culture of Trust; LTC Jonathan M. Chung; jonathan.m.chung.mil@mail.mil.

- SRP: The Army Has Not Hit the Mark in Trust; COL Amy Fields.

- SRP: Army Character and Ethics Development: A Practitioner's Approach; COL Michelle Goyette.

- SRP: Virtus: Toward a Model for Strategic Virtue; COL Charles O'Neal.

- SRP: Promoting Civil-Military Relations through Garrison Partnerships with Local Communities; COL Neil Tator; neil.tator.mil@mail.mil.

KSIL Issue 2.9: Analyze how the U.S. Army can best export military professionalism to its international partners, while accounting for local and regional political, social, and cultural concerns.

Pathways:

- SRP: Strategic Lessons for Military Advising; LTC Varman S. Chhoeung; varman.s.chhoeung.mil@mail.mil.

- SRP: Exporting Military Chaplaincy Professionalism through National Guard State Partnership Program; LTC Kurt A. Mueller; kurt.a.mueller.mil@mail.mil.

KSIL Issue 2.10: Analyze the nature of mission command at the strategic level and evaluate the Army's ability to employ this concept effectively.

Pathways:

- SRP: Mission Command: Opportunity and Challenges for Romanian Armed Forces; COL Cristinel Apopei; cristinel.apopei2.fm@mail.mil.
- SRP: Assessing Mission Command of the Army’s Leaders; LTC Travis Habhab.

- SRP: Halt-Fix-Pivot: Beyond a Materiel Solution to Network Modernization; LTC Osvaldo N. Ortiz; osvaldo.n.ortiz.mil@mail.mil.

- SRP: Assessing Mission Command in the United State Army; LTC Monica Reid.

KSIL Issue 7.8: Assess whether the Army develops the appropriate knowledge, skills, and abilities of its' leaders to effectively work at Department of the Army level.

Pathways:

- SRP: Strategic Art and Design for Military Strategists; LtCol Shanon Anderson.

KSIL Issue 7.13: Are current and planned defense management structures, roles, and decision support processes adequate to address requirements generation and prioritization in support of future Army and Joint Expeditionary Forces?

Pathways:

- SRP: Division Force Structure for a Peer Fight; LTC John M. Barefield; john.m.barefield.mil@mail.mil.

- SRP: How Can RM Professionals Better Support the Strategic Decision-making Process?; Ms. Kim N. Cousins; kim.n.cousins.civ@mail.mil.

- SRP: Israel’s Army Force Development Strategy in Light of Recent Conflicts; COL Amir Ebstein; amir.ebstein2.fm@mail.mil.
8. KSIL Theme #8: How can the U.S. Army better integrate into the Joint Force to prepare for and conduct Multi-Domain Battle (MDB)?

KSIL Issue 8.2: Evaluate how the evolving character of war will impact the strategic environment across all domains, and how the Army and the Joint Force should adapt in key DOTMLPF-P areas. Assess key inhibitors to needed change and possible ways of dealing with them.

Pathways:

- SRP: Shaping Army Aviation Maintenance: Adaptation to Support Future Vertical Lift; LTC James P. Velesky.

KSIL Issue 8.3: Assess and analyze capability gaps and future requirements for Army forces to operate in cross-domain operations short of war—the Competition Period (phase 0-phase I). Describe how Army forces, as part of a Joint, Interagency, and Multinational team, could then operate and compete with peer competitors to defeat their subversive activities, unconventional warfare, and information warfare short of armed conflict.

Pathways:

- SRP: U.S. Strategy in Eastern Europe: Contain Russian Expansion; LTC Christopher S. Alfeiri; christopher.s.alfeiri.mil@mail.mil.

KSIL Issue 8.5: Explain how theater and/or operational level commanders might open windows of advantage and exploit the initiative in MDB. Account for the operating environment, peer competitors’ capabilities, and emerging U.S. and allied capabilities to assess our abilities and challenges to see on a future battlefield.

Pathways:

- SRP: Army Space Forces’ Contribution to Multi-Domain Battle; LTC Matthew J. Schreiber; matthew.j.schreiber4.mil@mail.mil.
KSIL Issue 8.7: Evaluate how operational commanders can operate in and exploit contested and congested cyberspace, space domains, and the electro-magnetic spectrum. Assess and describe the organization, capabilities, and authorities required for these operational commanders and their staffs to operate against peer competitors who wield similar capabilities with different and often less-limited authorities.

Pathways:

- ERAP: United States Cyber Command: Implications for Operational Structure Changes; Mr. Jeffrey L. Caton.

- SRP: Maintaining Military Advantage in a GPS Contested Environment; LTC Kenneth Klock.

- SRP: The Operational Commander and Cyberspace; LTC John F. Whitfield; john.f.whitfield2.mil@mail.mil.

KSIL Issue 8.11: Identify Echelon Above Bridge (EAB) roles and functions to support MDB across an expanded battlespace. Describe how EAB forces shape operations in support of MDB. Describe how EAB forces enable, direct, and support tactical (BCT and below) operations. Are EAB elements simply headquarters or are they fighting formations? Why?

Pathways:

- SRP: Army’s Logistics Force Structure Imbalance and the Risk of Defeat; LTC Scott Kindberg.

KSIL Issue 8.13: Define, describe, and explain how cross-domain maneuver and cross-domain fires will be executed in the multi-domain environment. What changes to DOTMLPF are required to successfully execute such an operation?

Pathways:

- SRP: Army Challenges with Integrating Joint Fires in Multi-Domain Battle; LTC Adam M. Cobb; adam.m.cobb.mil@mail.mil.
KSIL Issue 8.14: Describe how Multi-Domain Battle should (or should not) change leader development, readiness and training for the U.S. Army? What, if any, training will become obsolete? Describe the process by which a brigade-level unit would train and become ready to operate in support of an MDB operation?

Pathways:

- SRP: Integration of Cyber Environments; LTC Scott Craig.

KSIL Issue 8.15. Assess the U.S. Army Warfighting Functions and the impact MDB will have on them. Examine the DOTMLPF impacts and capabilities required to operationalize MDB. How should the U.S. Army adapt? What are the risks in these adaptations?

Pathways:

- SRP: Future Vertical Lift: A Holistic Approach to Development; COL Johnathan B. Frasier; johathan.b.frasier.mil@mail.mil.

- SRP: PED Support to the System of Systems Enhanced Small Unit; LTC Eric Smith.

KSIL Issue 8.16: Assess how the U.S. Navy’s Distributed Maritime Operations and MDB can integrate and support each other. Examine whether or not a combined concept is possible between the two ideas. How can the Army and Navy best create a cross-domain fires linkage, similar to the Army’s Battlefield Coordination Detachment concept with the Air Force and beyond?

Pathways:

- SRP: Is Multi-Domain Battle the Right Service Concept?; LtCol Jon Livingston.
KSIL Issue 8.19: Assess and analyze the Army's role and use of watercraft in a multi-domain conflict.

Pathways:

- SRP: Army Water Craft Operations in Multi-Domain Battle; LTC Keith G. Harley; keith.g.harley.mil@mail.mil.
